The Thrills of Youth.

After all, the joys of youth are fairly well distributed between the sexes and, while a girl does not know the thrill that comes when one gets into one's first pair of long pants, though even that may fall to her lot before long now, on the other hand a boy doesn't know what it is to be a girl and walk around town with a soldier in uniform where the other girls can see.—Ohio State Journal.

UNCLE SAM DOESN'T ASK SELF DENIAL

Merely Requests That Some Foods Be Substituted for Others.

HAVE MISTAKEN IDEAS

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Food Administration is somewhat surprised that evidences of misapprehension as to the exact purpose of its plan of food conservation are still reaching Washington in spite of the wide educational campaign that has been carried on by the Federal Food Administration through newspapers of their states.

"The mistaken idea that American citizens are expected to reduce their own consumption in order to send food to our allies keeps cropping up," says the food administrator.

"We do not ask our people to deny themselves any food they need for their health or enjoyment," declared a Food Administration official here today. "We are urging only that they substitute nourishing, palatable foods which we have in abundance for a few commodities that we must ship to our allies. We must send wheat, meats, fats and sugar. That is our necessity and duty. We can do it easily if we will substitute corn and other cereals for a part of our usual consumption of wheat. Use fish, poultry and eggs instead of part of our ordinary meat. Employ vegetable oils instead of animal fats in cooking, and save sugar by using syrups wherever possible.

"This involves no hardships, no privation. In fact, it will usually increase variety and palatability of our daily diet, and it will release these other foods which concentrate a large amount of nutritive value into small shipping space. Combined with the elimination of all possible waste, it will permit us to keep our allies supplied with food."

Food Administration officials are highly gratified with the unanimity with which citizens of all states are signing the Food Pledge cards. From various localities come reports that enrollment is much greater than even the most optimistic expectations. In many localities enrollments include practically 100 per cent of the population.

Mr. Moore will be able to spend less than twenty-four hours with his wife, and if train schedules have been thrown into confusion by storms in the west, his time at home will be even less.

ASKS DIXON HELP IN RAISING FUND FOR SOLDIERS' FUN

Mayor Schmidt in Charge of Campaign in This City.

$800 DURING THE WEEK

In response to a telegram from Raymond B. Fosdick, chairman of the War Department and Navy Department Commission on Training Camp Activities, Mayor Henry Schmidt today took steps toward the organization of a campaign to raise Dixon's quota of $800 for this week next. The telegram, which explains the work, is:

"America is responding nobly to the leadership of President Wilson and Secretaries Baker and Daniels in demanding that our enlisted men in training shall receive no other scars than those won in honorable warfare. The War Camp Community Recreation Service will raise a national fund next week and it is important that local committees be quickly organized. This fund is for work in communities near the camps where the men go on leave and where they are most susceptible to either good or bad influence. The work does not conflict with work of the Y. M. C. A. and other organizations inside the camps. We ask your patriotic co-operation in organizing the campaign or in appointing a strong committee to raise Dixon's quota of $800 during the week of November 5."

Enlists Pastors' Aid.

Mayor Schmidt at once "got busy." He has written each of the pastors of the city, asking their co-operation and requesting that a silver collection for this purpose be taken Sunday, November 11. The heads of the schools have also been asked to give the children an opportunity to contribute some day next week, and later the mayor will name a committee to take charge of the solicitation throughout the city. A. P. Armington has been made treasurer of the fund.

CAPTAIN OF BATTERY C RAISED IN ARMY

Captain Hall's Father Was Major in Western Army Post.

RAISED IN MILITARY

Morris Rosbrook writes from Camp Logan, Houston, Texas, to L. W. Mitchell, as follows, of many interesting details of camp life:

Dear Brother—Received your dandy letter and sure was glad to hear from you again. I have been transferred from Battery C to the 123rd U. S. Artillery band and am pleased with the change. The boys are all well and still have the old pep and are ready to go any time, or anywhere. I honestly believe the boys of Battery G will do more than their share toward the great fight that is before us. They were not forced to do it but when the government called for the second liberty loan, little old Battery C came across with over $4,600 worth of bonds. You see our other company has not arrived yet, and we have a small battery, and that amount is a good deal for 70 men to give from the small amount they draw each month.

The boys sure have a man ahead of them who means business in the military line. Captain Hall's father was a major in an army post out west and he himself was raised there, so when you beat him in military discipline you have to step some.

We have had no rain since we arrived in Houston and at present it is very dusty in camp as the wind blows steadily all day long. The days here are grand, registering around 70 to 75 degrees all day long and at night it falls to about 45 to 65 degrees, and when it is around 45 degrees you think it is around zero. It sure does go through a fellow down.

BORDEN TO PAY $3 FOR NOVEMBER MILK

PRICE LESS THAN LAST MONTH BUT INCREASE OVER YEAR AGO.

The Borden Condensed Milk factory at Dixon announced its November milk prices today, and in accordance with announcements from Chicago yesterday, the prices for the coming month will be $3 per cwt. for milk testing 3.5 percentage of butter fat. The usual 3 cents per point graduation also applies to these prices.

This price of $3 is an increase of 90 cents over the November price of last year, and although it is considerably less than last month's milk prices, which were $3.42 per cwt., still, as the milk companies explain, the comparisons in milk prices are taken by comparing month for month with previous years. The October price for this year, $3.42, was an increase of $1.30 over October, 1916.

MUST NOT DESTROY PROPERTY THIS EVE

CONSERVATION OF NATION'S RESOURCES LEADS TO REQUEST.

The city authorities have added their appeal to that of the government officials that young America refrain from destruction of any property in their Halloween pranks to night. The tremendous struggle which the United States has entered makes it necessary that all waste of any kind be stopped in order that every resource of the country be available for the war. Therefore all pranks which damage property should be forgotten this evening. The local police, assisted by several specials and the Boy Scouts, will patrol the city tonight and those who are not patriotic enough to heed the government's request will be prosecuted.

"He never had but one genuine case in his life," said a lawyer of a rival, "and that was when he prosecuted his studies."

TO HOLD TOURNAMENT

Dixon Elks are getting ready for the annual billiard tournament which will start Nov. 15. B. F. Snyder is making the arrangements.

On December 1, the new stamp taxes, including those on parcel post packages, will be payable, putting the entire law into complete operation, except for increased rates on second class mail matter, postponed until July 1 next.

First Class Mail Rates.

Increases in first class mail rates probably will be most generally felt by the people. The law provides that the postage on letters, except "drop" or local letters, shall be 3 cents; and that on post cards, including private mailing cards, shall be 1 cent more than heretofore. This increase includes so-called picture post cards. The advances were made effective thirty days after passage of the law, and are construed by the postoffice department to begin with letters and post cards postmarked November 2.

The increases also have been extended by departmental order to first class mail to many foreign countries, which, under postal conventions, have enjoyed the domestic rates. The new 3-cent letter rate, therefore, will apply to letters to Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Panama, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, the Bahamas, Barbadoes, British Guinea, British Honduras, Santo Domingo, Dutch West Indies, Leeward Islands, Newfoundland and New Zealand. The post card increase will extend to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama, the only countries which have enjoyed the domestic post card rate.

of postage stamps containing 3-cent stamps are in readiness for sale and the department has had printed thousands of 2-cent postcards. First class mail postmarked tomorrow or any time prior to 12:01 A. M., November 2, regardless of time taken for delivery, will be transmitted at the old rates, but that postmarked thereafter must pay the increased toll.

Amusement admission taxes become effective tomorrow at places charging more than 5 cents. They are 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction paid for such admission, payable by the person admitted but collected by the government from the amusement proprietor, required to make sworn returns to the treasury. A flat tax of 1 cent for each child under 12 admitted when children are charged also is provided. Passes also are taxed, except those to bona fide employees, municipal officers and children under 12, at the regular rate, which also is extended to cabarets or other entertainment in which the admission is included in the price paid for refreshment, merchandise or service. Persons leasing theater boxes must pay 10 per cent on their rental.

New Tobacco Rates.
The new rates on cigars range from 25 cents to $7 per thousand and on cigarettes from 80 cents to $1.20 per thousand. Five cents a pound is the new tax on tobacco, snuff and other manufactured tobacco, while cigarette papers are taxed from 1/2 cent to 1 cent per hundred. As the taxes are now reaching the ultimate consumer, the raises mean about 1 cent more on 5 cent tobacco packages, from 2 to 5 cents on cigarette packages, and from 1 to 10 cents on cigars.

The taxes on freight and passenger transportation are also extended to motor vehicle competitors of steam and electric railways and water lines. The passenger transportation tax is not applicable to fares costing 35 cents or less or commutation or season tickets for trips less than thirty miles. Payments for services rendered the federal and state governments are exempt from taxation.

The 10 per cent tax on Pullman accommodations is applicable to payments for seats, berths, and staterooms in parlor and sleeping cars, or on vessels.

The 5 per cent tax on telephone, telegraph or radio messages costing 15 cents or more applies only to those originating in the United States.

Clubs whose dues are less than $12 a year and fees to lodges are exempt from the 10 per cent tax on club dues.

The new insurance taxes are imposed on new policies issued, with reinsurance policies exempted. Industrial or weekly payment policies are taxed 40 per cent on the first premium on policies for $500 or less.

FOES LOSE PATENTS

U. S. Abolishes Teuton Copyrights and Patents.

Americans to Be Licensed to Make Salvarsan and Other Drugs Invented by Germans.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The vast store of German scientific information in this country was opened today to American manufacturers in regulations issued by the federal trade commission, under which enemy-owned patents and copyrights will be licensed for use by citizens of the United States.

When the regulations had been made public the commission met a group of medical men to consider licensing the manufacture of certain drugs, principally salvarsan (906), used in virulent blood diseases, and nontoxic substitutes for local anesthetics, of which the supply in this country has run dangerously low since the war interrupted commerce.

Approximately 20,000 patented and copyrighted articles are said to be affected by the commission's order. These include dyestuff formulas of vital importance to American industries and mechanical devices of wide use, though the humanitarian effect of the order attracts the widest attention.

German thought for many years has been in the forefront of medical research, evolving remedies for disease and for alleviation of pain, all of which, patented in the United States, will now become available to end suffering in this country.

The discussion covered questions of manufacture, of control of the product, distribution and price. It was said to be likely that any licenses issued for the manufacture of salvarsan would carry a provision that a certain per cent of the outcome be turned over to the public health service.

When the commission will issue the first licenses for the manufacture of articles patented by alien enemies or their allies probably will depend on the time required for American producers to meet the license requirements. Physicians at the conference were said to have pointed out that an early supply of important drugs would be a contribution of the national defense.

ready exploded.

Starts in Five Places.
The fire broke out almost simultaneously at five different places at Locust Point shortly before eleven o'clock last night.

The flames spread to piers 8 and 9 of the B. & O., the old immigration pier, and a British steamer which arrived in port only yesterday.

More than a score of stevedores who were unloading the steamer were trapped by the flames and compelled to leap into the harbor.

For a time the whole Locust Point section was threatened, but a fortunate shift in the wind, which swept the flames toward the water, prevented the fire from enveloping the district.

Explosives Are Destroyed.
Great quantities of wood pulp, used in the manufacture of munitions, which were stored on pier 8, fell prey to the flames. Pier 9, upon which much explosive was stored, suffered heavily.

The $5,000,000 loss is proportioned as follows: One million and a half damage to piers, $3,000,000 freight destroyed, $500,000 damage to ships.

The war office simply reports that the British attacked north of the Ypres-Roulers railway, and that "good progress was made."

Paris, Nov. 1.—A German attack on the Alsace front near Cerny was repulsed by the French, the war office announces.

The official communication reports that heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans in a surprise attack north-west of Reims.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—Passchendaele village, on the Flanders front, was captured by the British, according to the official announcement, but it adds that later they were driven out.

On the Verdun front, the statement says, the Germans captured 1,200 meters of trenches northwest of Bezonvaux and maintained them against four counter-attacks.

RAIDER WAS BURNED AT SEA

Captain of Seeadler Says He Captured and Sunk Twenty-Five Vessels.

A Pacific Port, Oct. 31.—Count von Luckner, commander of the German raider Seeadler, told Fiji island newspaper correspondents, when he was captured near the Fijis recently, that the raider was destroyed by fire 2,000 miles from land, according to officers of a vessel which arrived here with details of the count's capture. Previous reports were that the vessel was wrecked on an island.

The count also asserted that the Seeadler destroyed 25 steamers and sailing vessels on its cruise.

A favorite plan of his was to send out a wireless message asking for the time. Some one would oblige him, and then the ship supplying the time was traced and sunk.

"SERVE BY SAVING" THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S SLOGAN

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

This matter of saving wheat offers much food for thought, doesn't it?

Incidentally, it offers much tempting food for our palates! Fortunately, saving our wheat does not mean going without bread. It only means that we will be given the chance to get better acquainted with all the wheat substitutes that are grown right here in our own country, but which we have hitherto been inclined to slight because of the greater popularity of wheat.

Take oatmeal, for instance. Most of us have liked this cereal from the very first spoonful that found its way to our mouths—which probably was in the nursery. Then why don't you make oatmeal more than an occasional visitor to your table? It may be served in many forms, in breads, cookies and puddings.

Try the following recipe for oatmeal muffins and serve it at luncheon tomorrow, together with cream cheese and jam instead of making those wheat biscuits you had planned.

Oatmeal Muffins.

1 1/2 cups milk; 2 eggs; 2 tablespoons sugar; 2 tablespoons fat; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 cups rolled oats; 1 cup flour; 4 teaspoons baking powder.

Pour milk over oats and let soak one-half hour. Add eggs and melted fat. Add the dry ingredients, which have been sifted together. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. This makes 10 to 12 muffins.

Because the farmers have produced an unusually large supply of buckwheat this year, patriotic housekeepers are collecting recipes that use this cereal instead of wheat. Here is a new rule for buckwheat muffins to start your collection:

Buckwheat Muffins.

2 cups buckwheat; 4 teaspoons baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 egg; 1 1/4 cup milk; 1 tablespoon butterine; 3 tablespoons sugar.

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Beat the egg and add to it the milk. Combine the mixtures and add the melted butterine. Bake in greased muffin pans for 30 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven. This makes 12 muffins.

NUT BREAD

Everybody Agrees With Us Nisco Spreader Is Best

Since we began telling in the public press about the Nisco Manure Spreader, our store has been a central point of interest with farmers for miles around.

And to a man, they all agree that the "Nisco" is the most practical spreader they ever saw. Even men who have used other spreaders for years, quickly concede the superiority of the "Nisco."

Now, this is very gratifying to us because we took the Nisco Agency only after personal investigation, and this unanimity of approval confirms our good judgment. There isn't a doubt that the will handle manure—fresh or stored—easily, economically and efficiently. A chain conveyor carries the manure to two cylinders, revolving one over the other, where it is thoroughly fined and pulverized. Then, swiftly revolving steel paddles distribute this fine manure over a strip wider than the wheel base of the machine itself—actually across three corn rows. The "Nisco" will spread 3, 6, 9, 12, 15, 18 loads per acre according as the feed lever is set and do it evenly. It is built low; mounted on wide tire wheels, and strong enough from kingbolt to drive wheels to stand steady hard service for a lifetime. Never clogs nor strains a team unduly.

NISCO The "New Idea" Manure Spreader

First Wide-Spreading Spreader Ever Built

Leads now as it did when first invented 17 years ago. The first machine to embody the wide-spreading feature.

We've An Interesting Book To Give You

"Helping Mother Nature." This book is valuable. Tells fertility facts you never dreamed of. Gives suggestions about the care and use of manure that it will pay you to follow out. Don't miss your copy—ask when you come in—it's waiting.

Hallowe'en Supper.

Glowing candles in pumpkin shells, black cats and flying witches made festive the table at the Hallowe'en supper enjoyed by members of the E. R. B. class, their husbands and friends. The supper was given last evening in the basement of St. Paul's Lutheran church, and was a scramble affair of many delicacies. The entertainment after the supper was suited to Hallowe'en in program features and stunts and every moment of the evening was one of pleasure and hilarity. Miss Eleanor Powell as the fortune teller in the costume of a witch brewed strange fortunes for all who came to learn of the future. Other pleasing parts of the program were a vocal and an instrumental solo by little Miss Helne White, a vocal number by Harry Raffenberger and reading by little Miss Cecelia Raffenberger.

Pass Pledges.

The Dorcas society of the Congregational church met at the church on Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of passing out the food conservation pledge cards and to discuss food conservation in general. The cards will be signed and returned during the church services Sunday.

Phidian Art Club Met.

The meeting of the Phidian Art club on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Steel was one of special interest. After two choice numbers on the Victrola, the Misses Marjorie Slothower and Beatrice Beavers sang very sweetly "Life's Dream Is O'er" by Asher. Mrs. Moss, in a well written paper on the early conquests of Spain along the north coast of South America, known as the Spanish Main, told the story of the struggle for possession of their gold and their existence under the oppression of Spain, as one of continuous warfare. Under the leadership of Simon Bolivar, a native of Venezuela, Spanish dominion was overthrown in 1826. The city of Cartagena, Colombia, sometimes called the "Charles-town of South America," claims to be the place where the first effort was made to attain their independence from Spain. The period of conquest has been exceedingly slow, but Colombia and her neighbors, in a few years to come, will hold a prominent place among the republics of the world. After a social hour and refreshments, a pleasant afternoon closed.

Entertainment at Brick School

A box supper and entertainment will be given at the Brick school house on the Chicago road Friday evening, Nov. 2nd. Everyone is cordially invited. Miss Goldie Manning, the teacher, an dher pupils, have made quite elaborate arrangements for the affair, which promises a good time for all attending.

Given Hallowe'en Party.

Miss Helen McKenney is entertaining a group of young ladies this evening for Miss Ethel Sterling. Following the invitations a day or two later, anonymous letters were sent out designating the receiver of the communication as one of a committee to investigate matters this evening at 521 Hennepin avenue (Miss McKenney's home), as from there issued ghostly sounds and therein walked strange apparitions. In order out to startle those strange visitants, each member of the committee was asked to wear pillow case and sheet and white mask.

Harvest Home Festival

The Aid society of the Methodist church will hold a Harvest Home festival in the church basement Nov. 7. A home baking and vegetable booth will be a feature in addition to the supper, to which the public is invited.

St. Mary's Dancing Party.

Hallowe'en colors, orange and black, made festive the Knights of Columbus hall Tuesday evening for St. Mary's Guild dancing party. Thirty or more couples participated in the happy affair, three pieces from the Marquette orchestra furnishing the music. Refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served during the evening.

Guests From Iowa.

Mrs. Jacob Echterbach of Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Echterbach of Boone, Ia., were guests of Mrs. M. D. Grimes on Tuesday. Mrs. Chester Echterbach has been visiting her husband's parents in Sterling for some time, but expects to return to Iowa on Thursday. Mr. Echterbach came for an over Sunday visit.

M. E. Foreign Missionary.

A regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will be held on Thursday at 2:30 p. m. with Miss Callie Morgan, 124 E. Chamberlain St. It is hoped that all the members of the society will be present and visitors are always most welcome. The opening chapter of the study book on Africa will be the subject of exposition by Mrs. Lumsden.

Guild's "Children's" Party.

It was a delightful little Hallowe'en party that the members of St. Margaret's Guild and a number of friends enjoyed at the home of Misses Agnes and Beatrice Howell Tuesday evening. It was a "children's" party and knee trousers and pig tails were the rule, although there was a ban on boys. Merriment ran rife over the Hallowe'en games and dancing was also enjoyed. Light refreshments were served and naught save the glow from a fire in the fireplace, over which marshmallows were toasted, lighted a comfortable living room as spooky ghost stories were told by a number of the girls till one fairly looked for ghosts in every shadowy corner.

To Entertain.

Miss Ethel Sterling will entertain a group of her girl friends at her home Friday evening.

Hallowe'en Party.

Fortune telling and an unusual assortment of Hallowe'en diversions, together with a program of music, readings, games and dainty eats, will make the evening's Hallowe'en entertainment to be given by the Baptist Young People's Union on Friday evening in the Baptist church parlors a unique and delightful affair. All are invited. There is a small admission fee, but not enough to keep any at home, even these days.

Class Had Party.

Bats are unusually fearsome creatures to girls, but the curtains at the Mrs. Klepinger home Tuesday evening fairly swarmed with them, and black cats and witches filled every other nook and corner, and although there were ever so many girls there, not one seemed unduly alarmed. Mrs. Klepinger's class was having a Hallowe'en party and the members and their friends made up a jolly company of 39 or 40. The hall was lighted weirdly by a big jack-o-lantern, and many of these were used in the other rooms while shocks of corn added to the effectiveness of the decorations. All sorts of games, suited to the evening, fortune telling by various methods, and music, both Victrola and piano, all lent pleasure to the evening. A Hallowe'en luncheon of apples and popcorn was served.

To Rockford.

Miss Florence Stackpole has gone to Rockford to attend the teachers' association meeting and visit schools. While there she will be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Byington.

A Saint.

How our simple valentine customs ever came to be connected with so sober and revered a person as St. Valentine has ever been a mystery. There are many theories as to how this came about, but the most probable one is that the custom descends from the ancient Romans and can be traced to their festivals of the "Lupercalia," which came on the 15th of February. At this celebration names of young women were drawn by young men.

The fathers of the church put their veto on these personal drawings, and in place of the young women's names substituted the names of the saints, each person thus choosing a patron saint for the coming year. This valentine's day, the anniversary of the martyrdom of Valentine, an old-time saint.

A Beauty.

A clerk in a dry-goods store was showing a shopper some parasols. The man had a good command of language and knew how to speak of the good qualities and show the best points of goods. As he picked up a parasol from the lot on the counter and opened it, he struck an attitude of admiration and, holding it up to the light, said:

"Now, madam, isn't it lovely? Look at the silk; particularly observe the quality, the finish, the general effect. Feel it; pass your hand over it. No nonsense about that parasol, is there?" he said, as he handed it to the lady. "Isn't it a beauty? Only $5."

"Yes," said the lady; "that's my old one. I just laid it down there."

Answered.

"Archaeology," explained Professor Diggsdew, "is the endeavor of science to recover the story of human life in earlier ages, and, by pushing its quest further and further back, to solve in some measure the mystery of man's beginning."

The class seemed to be greatly impressed, with the possible exception of Thomas Tuttle, who had not been paying close attention.

"Thomas," asked the professor, "can you give the name of any noted archaeologist?"

With a do-or-die look in his face, Thomas ventured the reply: "Noah is the only archaeologist I ever heard of."

Never Again.

A Philadelphian, on his way to Europe, was experiencing seasickness for the first time. Calling his wife to his bedside, he said in a weak voice: "Jenny, my will is in the Commercial Trust Company's care. Everything is left to you, dear. My various stocks you will find in my safe deposit box." Then he said fervently, "And, Jenny, bury me on the other side. I can't stand this trip acale, alive or dead."

Perfectly Simple.

"Everyone goes to sleep during his sermons," "I don't." "How ever do you stay awake?" "Don't go to church."

Chemistry of Human Body.

The average human body, besides the carbon, hydrogen, oxygen and nitrogen of which it is chiefly composed, contains 34 pounds of lime, 1 pound 11 ounces of phosphorus, 2 2/3 ounces of potash, 2 1/2 ounces of sodium, 1 3/5 ounce each of magnesium sulphur and silica and about one-sixth of an ounce of iron.

An Improvement on Nature.

A certain Chicago pork packer, visiting the mountains, was one of a group witnessing a gorgeous sunset in a sky just streaked with lights that reminded one of the glories of the aurora. "Yes," he said, when asked how he liked it; "it certainly is a mighty colorful sunset—certainly is! By the way, I want to show you one! My daughter painted!"—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

LIGHT A VILLAGE WITH AUTOMOBILE

MIN. OPERATE ELECTRIC PLANT IN A NEW WAY

Engine of Motor Car Runs Dynamo and 143 Lamps Are Furnished Current.

Lakeside, Ark., a small pearl fishing village, boasts of something that many larger towns do not possess—an electric light plant. It's a real oddity, but it "does the work."

Two young men, Elmer Johnson and Bert Richards, drove their automobile into the village one day and liked it so well they decided to stay.

They hit upon a new mechanical arrangement to provide the town with electric lights at small cost. They obtained an old dynamo and installed their automobile to run it. At first they installed a stationary gas engine, but this did not give satisfaction for the reason that its speed could not be regulated to eliminate "flickering" in the lights. However, they were not discouraged, and turned to their motor car. The auto engine gives the power and at the same time overcomes the difficulty experienced with the stationary engine. The engine furnishes power for probably the smallest municipal light plant in the country.

A three-kilowatt dynamo is used, and this at present furnishes ample power and current for 125 house lamps, and eighteen street lamps of sixteen candle power.

The engine is mounted on timber, beside the dynamo, and exhaust and breather pipes are connected and run thru a wall to the outside. The engine is provided with a cooling system by connection of the radiator with a gas pipe which leads to a barrel of water outside.

It is possible to burn distillate in the engine instead of gasoline. Thus a saving is made in fuel. The owners also do a thriving business in repairing motor boats and automobiles.

TALL PALM'S ORIGIN IS COCOANUT ADRIFF

Nut Cast Afloat Becomes Food Tree on a Distant Shore.

Cocanuts generally grow at the edge of seas or rivers, and many of the nuts as they become ripe fall into the water. The nuts are covered with a thick husk, which has a waterproof covering, so that they will float.

As they float, writes a Naturalist, the three eyes, which are all at one end of the nut, are always on top. Once in the water, nature goes to work. From one of the eyes there comes a shoot that sends forth broad leaves that act as sails. The wind catches these sails and wafts the coconut on a journey that may be many miles long.

As it sails the other two eyes send out roots, which at first grow among the fibers of the woody husk. In time the coconut in the water on another shore, perhaps on another island.

The roots embed themselves in the soft earth, the sail becomes the trunk, and very shortly a thriving coconut palm is growing where none grew before.

An Evasion.
"Insofar as my circumstances permit," qualifies the housewife's pledge to conserve food. It is a neat evasion of the shorter and uglier "if the cook permits!"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Essential Invention.
"What shall we invent?" inquired the eminent scientist.
"The first thing," replied the chairman of the meeting, "is to invent some way of keeping a secret."—Washington Star.

national guard camps, over 150 tents supplied with stationery, reading matter, games, etc.; 2,000 secretaries in the service.

By the Knights of Columbus, 65 halls completed and in operation, 50 secretaries at work, halls equipped with entertainment and athletic equipment.

coming. Boxing, baseball, basketball, football and all other games of like character.

Post exchange; there the soldiers may buy tobacco, handkerchiefs, soap, candy, and other articles not provided by the government, the men getting their share of the profits.

and more to follow, state welfare commissions appointed.

THE PIG IN THE PARLOR.

As President Wilson has truly said, war makes all sorts of changes, and rules that apply in time of peace must be stretched in time of war.

All over the country this principle is being applied to local conditions and the sober common sense of the people is being depended upon to set the limits.

City ordinances are first enacted, theoretically at least, to give the greatest good to the greatest number.

At times such ordinances automatically bring about a change to suit new conditions and yet the laws remain upon the statute books just the same, to be in force when conditions have again adjusted themselves.

In New York city, for instance, ordinances were passed long ago forbidding the raising of pigs and chickens inside the city limits.

The laws were all right for the times.

When there was plenty to eat all over the country there was no call for a small number of people to pester all the rest with squealing porkers, crowing cocks and clucking hens.

But times have changed.

The city health department in New York has granted permission to keep a few chickens in the city yard and to raise small pigs and Belgian hares.

One large supply house has a great exhibition of live stock and is giving the people free demonstrations on the care of the animals.

"We keep the pig in the parlor" may apply to other parts of New York as well as to Coogan's Bluff, and it may apply to Dixon and every city in the land before this war is over.

PROLONGS THE WAR.

The breaking down of the Russian regime is recognized as having added one year to the war. It is possible that the partial collapse of Italy will add another year. It is one of the events, however, for which there seems to have been no help, owing to the shortage of shipping under the destruction by the submarines. America and Great Britain are now building ships faster than they are destroyed. The destruction proceeds at a slower pace also. In time the drawback will be overcome.

It seems to be written in the philosophy of the war that the moral changes it may be expected to bring about are not to be accomplished in a short course of events. Most students of the philosophy of the American civil war are able to see at this distance that the fruits of that conflict in the development of the nation were not to be had short of the prolonged four-year test given the nation. The evolution of the present world war may have something of the same destiny in the education of the family of nations, not excepting Germany and the followers of the military cult.

SIGNING THE FOOD PLEDGE.

This is food pledge week.

Cards are to be passed in every community in the United States for women to sign who will agree to abide by the government's request in the conservation of food.

Those who sign these pledge cards and stick to their word are doing a big work in making the world safe for democracy.

The armies of the United States and of our allies will go hungry unless we watch every dish that goes onto our own tables.

A speaker in the Congress of Christian Workmen in Berlin bids defiance to President Wilson, says a news dispatch. How odd that word Christian sounds in connection with anything German. But then, German Christianity seems to be in a class by itself.

Tonight is Halloween. Have all the fun you can. Kids, but don't damage property. It is no fun to cause loss to another. Confine yourselves to pranks that do no real damage.

here when he is used to hot weather. We are all ready for the rainy season to start. Have floors in the tents, and the sides are built up three feet. Stoves are set up and when it starts to rain the bunch will have just the same as they do now—all the pep in the world.

I am getting a bunch of pictures finished of different military maneuvers and will send you a set because I know you would like to know what is going on down here.

I was very sorry to hear of the death of our brother, "Gus," as we all called him. I always thought the world of him. He was just another Lou Rosbrook when it came to heart size, and they were great pals. I was always ready to do anything I could for Gus because I knew he was not going to be with us long.

Well, L. W., I guess I will have to hit the hay because five bells comes early. Hoping to hear from you I remain as ever,

UDINE, ITALIAN ARMY BASE, IN TEUTON HANDS

Austro-German Forces Capture
Cadorna's Former Headquarters,
Is Berlin Report.

LATINS HALTED BY RIVER

Retirement of Defeated Army Is Being Stemmed by Swollen Tagliamento—Cadorna Saves Heavy British Guns.

Amsterdam, Oct. 31.—A dispatch received here from Vienna says: "The Austrian emperor entered Goritz. The enemy destroyed or plundered a large part of the city and carried off the population."

Berlin, via London, Oct. 31.—Udine, the former Italian headquarters, has been occupied by Austro-German forces, army headquarters announced.

The Austrians and Germans are pressing forward irresistibly in the northern Italian plain toward the course of the Tagliamento river, the statement says. Austro-German troops, advancing from the Carnic Alps, have reached Venetian soil on the whole front and are pressing forward against the upper course of the Tagliamento.

Retreat Stemmed by River.

The retirement of the defeated Italian army is being stemmed at the few crossings of the river, which is greatly swollen.

[The Tagliamento river, on its lower course, is the defense line on which General Cadorna is reported to have elected to make his stand against the German invasion.]

Battle Covering Retreat.

Rome, Oct. 31.—The Italian retreat continues, the war office announces. The Italian cavalry is in contact with the vanguards of the advancing army.

The Italians destroyed bridges over the Isonzo and fought rear-guard actions, by which means they checked the Austro-German advance.

Following is the text of the statement:

"During the day the withdrawal of our troops on their new positions was continued. Destruction of the bridges over the Isonzo, effected by our troops, and the successful action of our covering units have detained the advance of the enemy.

"Our cavalry is in contact with the hostile vanguards."

The Italian retreat, according to the Messaggero, is being accomplished in good order, with the artillery saved or destroyed and stores and magazines burned.

The Messaggero also declares the Germans are making a mistake if they think to terrorize the Italians politically by this effort and "convert the country into another Russia." It asserts every revolutionary idea to make a lame peace has disappeared, and that the whole nation will fight until a just and lasting peace has been won.

British "Heavies" Saved.

Italian Headquarters, Oct. 31.—After three days with the retreating Italian army the correspondent, who has just arrived at headquarters, is able to state that all the British batteries have been saved. The men suffered much from cold, torrential rain and hunger during the retreat.

As to the general situation of the Italian army in its retreat, the correspondent, who has been in the thick of the retirement, is prevented from giving details by military necessity.

SAVE 35 FROM CULT'S SHIP

Passengers on House of David Craft Rescued From Lake.

Traverse City, Mich., Oct. 31.—Thirty-five passengers on the steamer Rising Sun, owned by the House of David colony at Benton Harbor and used to transport freight to that point, narrowly escaped drowning when the ship went on the rocks in Lake Michigan near Glen Arbor. Coast guards and others went to the rescue. One boat was overturned by the high waves, but all in it reached land. The steamer was fast breaking up.

NO DISEASE GERMS IN BOOKS

So Declares Bacteriologist Who Made Thoro Tests.

The theory that disease germs find lodgment in much handled library and school books is disproved by tests made by Dr. C. A. Laubach, bacteriologist of John Hopkins University.

He took 150 books from homes in which diphtheria had existed and seventy-five books from a public library that had been in circulation for many years among children in whose homes sanitary conditions were known to be bad.

The books were swabbed with sterile cotton in such a manner as to gather all germs. In no instance could the diphtheria bacillus be isolated from the books and the bacteria collected were of the kind usually found in the air.

By-Laws.

The original meaning was "town laws." "By" is an old Norse word meaning "town." It appears in the names of such towns as Derby and Whitby in the part of England which was overrun by the Danes in the ninth and tenth centuries.

New Foreign Minister in the French Cabinet

WON'T CUT PRICE OF MILK

One Thousand Illinois Producers Demand $3.71 for November.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—An answer to the proposed action of the milk distributors in Chicago to lower the price of milk to $3 a hundredweight was made by delegates representing more than 1,000 dairies in Boone, Winnebago and McHenry counties, who decided that the November price for milk was to be $3.71. The October price was $3.42, but the producers have maintained that this amount was insufficient to cover the cost of production.

W. J. Kittle, secretary of the Milk Producers' association, issued a warning that the farmers would not stand for a cut in price, and that they would stop producing if the cut was adopted by the large distributors in Chicago.

It is expected that general conferences will be held by all the large distributors in the city to determine what action shall be taken toward cutting the price to be paid to the producer.

CHAPTER XVIII.

A Family Reunion.

Two days later the three dropped from the trees on the edge of the plain, across which they could see the smoke rising from the bungalow and the cookhouse chimneys. Tarzan of the Apes had regained his civilized clothing from the tree where he had hidden it, and as Korak refused to enter the presence of his mother in the savage half-raincoat that he had worn so long and as Meriem would not leave him for fear, as she explained, that he would change his mind and run off into the jungle again, the father went on ahead to the bungalow for horses and clothes.

My Dear met him at the gate, her eyes filled with questioning and sorrow, for she saw that Meriem was not with him.

"Where is she?" she asked, her voice trembling. "My dear, I told you that she disobeyed your instructions and ran off into the jungle after you had left her. Oh, John! I cannot bear to lose her, too!" And Lady Greystoke broke down and wept as she pillowed her head upon the broad breast where so often before she had found comfort in the great tragedies of her life.

Lady Greystoke raised her head and looked down into her eyes, his own smiling and filled with the light of happiness.

"What is it, John?" she cried. "You have good news. Do not keep me waiting for it."

"I want to be quite sure that you can stand hearing the best news that ever came to either of us," he said.

"Joy never kills!" she cried. "You have found her—her?" She could not bring herself to hope for the impossible.

"Yes, Jane," he said, and his voice was husky with emotion. "I have found her—and him!"

"Where is he? Where are they?" she demanded.

"Out there at the edge of the jungle. He wouldn't come to you in his savage leopard skin and his moccasins. He sent me to fetch him civilized clothing."

She clasped her hands in ecstasy and turned to run toward the bungalow.

"Wait!" she cried over her shoulder. "I have all his little suits. I have saved them all. I will bring one to you."

Tarzan laughed and called to her to stop.

"The only clothing on the place that will fit him," he said, "is mine—if it isn't too small for him. Your little boy has grown, Jane."

She laughed, too; she felt like laughing at everything or at nothing. The world was all love and happiness and joy once more, the world that had been shrouded in the gloom of her great sorrow for so many years. So great was her joy that for the moment she forgot the sad message that awaited Meriem.

She called to Tarzan after he had ridden away to prepare her for it, but he did not hear and rode on without knowing of it himself.

When they arrived the mother faced Meriem, an expression of sadness crasing the happiness from her eyes.

"My little girl," she said, "in the midst of our happiness a great sorrow awaits you—Mr. Baynes did not survive his wounds."

The expression of sorrow in Meriem's eyes expressed only what she sincerely felt, but it was not the sorrow of a woman bereft of her best beloved.

"I am sorry," she said quite simply. "But it was not love, I did not know what love was until I knew that Korak lived," and she turned toward the Killer with a smile.

Lady Greystoke looked quickly up into the eyes of her son, the son who one day would be Lord Greystoke. No thought of the difference in the stations of the girl and her boy entered her mind. To her Meriem was fit for a king. She only wanted to know that Jack loved the little Arab waif.

"The look in his eyes answered the question in her heart, and she threw her arms about them both and kissed them each a dozen times."

"Now," she cried, "I shall really have a daughter!"

It was several weary marches to the nearest mission, but they waited at the farm only a few days for rest and preparation for the great event before setting out upon the journey, and after the marriage ceremony had been performed they kept on to the coast to take passage for England.

They had been home but a week when Lord Greystoke received a message from his old friend D'Arnot. It was in the form of a letter of introduction brought by one General Armand Jacot. Lord Greystoke recalled the name, as who familiar with modern French history would not? For Jacot was in reality the Prince de Cadrener, that intense republican who refused to use, even by courtesy, a title that had belonged to his family for 400 years.

"There is no place for princes in a republic," he was wont to say. Lord Greystoke received the hawk-nosed, grey-mustached soldier in his library, and after a dozen words the two men had formed a mutual esteem that was to endure through life. And the soldiers' words had vividly before his host scenes and events nearly two decades old. He told his host how he had been a captain in the Foreign Legion of France stationed at that time in Africa. He told how he had hunted down marauding bands of Arabs and blacks in the heart of the great desert of Sahara. He told how he had in camp with him his little four-year-old daughter and how he came back to camp one day to find that she had mysteriously disappeared.

Neither the wealth of her father and mother nor all the powerful resources of the great French republic were able to wrest the secret of her whereabouts from the inscrutable desert that had swallowed her and her abductor.

A reward of such enormous proportions was offered that many adventurers were attracted to the hunt, among them Jensen and Malblin. This was no case for the modern detective of civilization, yet several of these threw themselves into the search. The bones of some are bleaching beneath the African sun upon the silent sands of the Sahara.

"I have come to you," explained General Jacot as he concluded, "because our dear admiral tells me that there is no one in all the world who is more intimately acquainted with Central Africa than you."

"We did all that love and money and even government resources could do to discover her, but all to no avail."

"A week since there came to me in Paris a swarthy Arab, who called himself Abdul Kinnak. He said that he had found my daughter and could lead me to her. I took him at once to Admiral D'Arnot, who I knew had traveled some in Central Africa. The man's story led the admiral to believe that the place where the girl the Arab supposed to be my daughter was held in captivity was not far from your African estates, and he advised that I come at once and call upon you—that you would know if such a girl were in your neighborhood."

"What proof did the Arab bring that she was your daughter?" asked Lord Greystoke.

"None," replied the other. "That is why we thought best to consult you before organizing an expedition. The fellow had only an old photograph of her, on the back of which was pasted a newspaper cutting describing her and offering a reward. We feared that, having found this somewhere, he had aroused his cupidity and led him to believe that in some way he could obtain the reward, possibly by foisting upon us a white girl on the chance that so many years had elapsed that we would not be able to recognize an impostor as such."

"Have you the photograph with you?" asked Lord Greystoke.

The general drew an envelope from his pocket, took a yellowed photograph from it and handed it to the Englishman. Tears dimmed the old warrior's eyes as they fell again upon the pictured features of his lost daughter.

Lord Greystoke examined the photograph for a moment. A queer expression entered his eyes. He touched a bell at his elbow, and an instant later a footman entered.

"Ask my son's wife if she will be so good as to come to the library," he directed.

The two men sat in silence. General Jacot was too well bred to show in any way the chagrin and disappointment he felt in the summary manner in which Lord Greystoke had dismissed the subject of his call. As soon as the young lady had come and he had been presented he would make his departure.

A moment later Meriem entered. Lord Greystoke and General Jacot rose and faced her. The Englishman spoke no word of introduction. He wanted to see the effect of the first sight of the girl's face, on the Frenchman, for he had a theory, a heaven-born theory, that had leaped into his mind the moment his eyes had rested on the baby face of Jeanne Jacot.

"I Know You! I Know You!" She Cried.

General Jacot took one look at Meriem, then turned toward Lord Greystoke. "How long have you known it?" he asked, a trifle accusingly. "Since you showed me that photograph a moment ago," replied the Englishman.

"It is she," said Jacot, shaking with suppressed emotion, "but she does not recognize me. Of course, she could not. Then he turned to Meriem. 'My child,' he said, 'I am your—'

But she interrupted him with a quick, glad cry as she ran toward him with outstretched arms.

"I know you! I know you!" she cried. "Oh, now I remember!" And the old man folded her in his arms.

Jack Clayton and his mother were summoned, and when the story had been told them they were only glad that little Meriem had found a father and a mother.

"And really you didn't marry an Arab waif after all," said Meriem. "Isn't it fine?"

"You are fine," replied the Killer. "I married my little Meriem, and I don't care for my part whether she is an Arab or just a little Mangani."

"She is neither, my son," said General Armand Jacot. "She is a princess in her own right."

CABINET PLANS HUGE U. S. ARMY TO FIGHT KAISER

President and Aids Roused by Italy's Plight—May Call 5,000,000 Men.

TO LOWER THE DRAFT AGE?

Program Considered at Washington Also Provides Examination of Second Increment of 687,000 Draft Registrants.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Stupendous preparations to muster every ounce of American man power and economic resources for the defeat of Germany will be the answer of the United States to the Teutonic victories over the Russian and Italian armies, which means a prolongation of the war.

Here is the program, some phases of which were discussed at the meeting of President Wilson and his cabinet:

Legislation by congress authorizing the expansion of the army to a maximum of 5,000,000 men in gradual increments of half a million each.

May Lower Draft Age. Lowering of the minimum draft age to nineteen and raising of the maximum draft age, possibly to thirty-five years.

Examination of the second increment of 687,000 draft registrants, beginning in December with a view to sending them to the training camps by early spring.

Flotation of the third Liberty loan, probably for $3,000,000,000, next February.

A marked increase in war taxation, particularly on the profits of business. Legislation on making it possible to restrict the manufacture of nonessentials and to concentrate the labor power of the nation on the production of ships and munitions.

The reverses suffered by the Italian armies, following closely upon the military collapse of Russia, have awakened the administration to the realization that a much more aggressive policy must be pursued by the American government.

Hopes of Early Peace Gone.

The advisers of the president who met at the cabinet table ill concealed their discouragement over the misfortunes sustained by the entente cause in the last week, but they left no doubt of their renewed determination to redouble the efforts of America.

All hope of an early peace has been dissipated. Those government officials who believed that the heaven of discontent was working in Germany and that the Prussian autocracy could not much longer weather the rising storm of internal dissension now concede that their hopes have been blighted by the successful German drive into Italy.

There is no fear that Italy will be crippled to the extent that Russia has been by the foe at home and abroad, but it is realized that it will take months for Italy to recover from the staggering blow dealt by the German and Austrian armies.

Secretary Lansing Reveals German Conspiracy Against Three Latin Countries.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The keeping of markets in Argentina open to Germany, the separation of the province of Rio Grande do Sul from Brazil and the cultivation of friendly relations with Chile were the amazing aims of Germany in South America. Count Luxburg, Germany's disgraced minister to Buenos Aires, believed as late as August 4 that he could attain those aims.

To do so he wanted a submarine squadron at his disposal and he asked a stiffer policy with Brazil, whose people, in common with all South Americans, he called "Indians under a thin veneer."

"In view of the fact that the substance of certain telegrams addressed by Count Luxburg to the German foreign office has been published, the secretary of state makes public the actual text of the telegrams."

"No. 63, July 7, 1917. Our attitude toward Brazil has created the impression here that our easy-going good nature can be counted on. This is dangerous in South America, where the people, under a thin veneer, are Indians. A submarine squadron with full power to me might still save the situation. I request instructions as to whether after a rupture of relations the legation is to start for home or to remove to Paraguay or possibly Chile. The naval attaché will doubtless go to Santiago de Chile."

"LUXBURG."

"No. 89, Aug. 4, 1917. I am convinced that we should be able to carry through our principal political aims in South America, the maintenance of open markets in Argentina and the reorganization of South Brazil, equally well whether with or against Argentina. Please cultivate friendship with Chile. The announcement of the visit of a submarine squadron to salute the president would even now exercise decisive influence on the situation in South America. Prospect excellent for wheat harvest in December."

GERMAN LOSSES 6,000,000

Socialist Says 1,500,000 Teutons Have Been Killed.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Germany has lost 6,000,000 men, Herr Ledebour, Socialist leader, told the reichstag recently, according to a dispatch from Switzerland. The Socialist leader said concerning another winter campaign:

"You evidently have not an exact conception of what war means. We have had 1,500,000 dead, 3,000,000 or 4,000,000 wounded, of whom 500,000 are crippled for life, and 2,000,000 absolutely invalid. That makes altogether 6,000,000 men lost during three years."

Official confirmation of these figures has been in possession of American officials for some time, it was said here.

LONGING FOR A CHILD

Young Wife Almost in Despair. Now has Beautiful Baby Girl.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought joy to many childless women by restoring them to normal health. Here is a notable case. Omaha, Neb.—"I suffered from female troubles when I was seventeen years old. At eighteen I was married and my trouble was no better so I consulted a physician who said that there was not much I could do and I could not have children. I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has proved worth its weight in gold to me for I am not only well but have a baby girl, so when I hear of any woman suffering as I was I tell her of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. W. HUGHES, 19 Majestic Apts., Omaha, Neb.

In many other homes, once childless, there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

Making a House a Home.
In planning a home it is essential to building satisfaction that the prospective home owner decides whether he wants to dwell in his own or some other person's home; that he decide just the sort of home he wishes to erect and follow those plans, also that he build his house on honest lines that conform to the principles of good architecture.

Natural Heating Plant.
During severe winter weather range cattle in the Bad Lands of western North Dakota are seen now and then congregated about a great fissure in a red, naked hillside. Investigation shows that a warm current of air rising through the fissure from a burning coal bed underneath has attracted them.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE SHUT
Fear That Brokers Will Be Bankrupt
Leads to Action.

Montreal, Oct. 31.—The Montreal stock exchange failed to open. The unofficial explanation was made that the exchange was closed because a number of brokers are in danger of ruin on account of their heavy holdings, which they had been unable to dispose of in the unfavorable markets of recent days.

YOUNG RYAN HITS MARRIAGE
Son of New York Financier Calls Father's Wedding Cold-Blooded.

New York, Oct. 31.—Allan A. Ryan, son of Thomas Fortune Ryan, the financier, whose marriage at Charlottesville, Va., last Monday to Mrs. Cornelius C. Chrysler, twelve days after the death of his wife, caused much surprise, called the World by telephone from his home at Suffern, N. Y., and said:
"I consider my father's conduct of yesterday the most cold-blooded, the most disrespectful and most indecent thing I have ever known."
The World recalled Mr. Ryan by telephone to Suffern and verified the fact that it was he who had made the statement.

Count George von Hertling, prime pointed by the kaiser as imperial chancellor of Germany. He succeeds Count Michaelis who was named premier of Prussia.

VON HERTLING NAMED
Kaiser Appoints Him Imperial Chancellor of Germany.

Appointment of Bavarian to Chief in Emperor's Government Announced
—Michaelis Premier of Prussia.

Amsterdam, Oct. 31.—Count George von Hertling, the Bavarian prime minister, has been appointed German imperial chancellor.
Former Chancellor Michaelis has been named prime minister of Prussia.

Count von Hertling is well-known for his reactionary proclivities and is regarded as representing the most extreme Junker and pan-German position.
He is one of the oldest German statesmen and has repeatedly given evidence of arrogant contempt for government by the people, as exemplified in the United States.

Doctor Michaelis, by virtue of his present office as chancellor, has also been "minister president," or premier, of Prussia. The change means that Michaelis is demoted from his place as chancellor, but will retain his job in the Prussian ministry.

HOOSIER FIRED FIRST SHELL
South Bend (Ind.) Man Sent Missile
Into foe's Trenches.

American Field Headquarters in France, Oct. 31.—Indiana and Georgia divide the honor of having inaugurated America's land warfare against the Germans.

A sergeant from South Bend, Ind., pulled the lanyard to send the first shell tearing across the valley in the direction of the German positions at 6:15 on the morning of October 25.

A Georgia lieutenant gave the order
"fire."
The facts were established during the first visit paid by the correspondent of the International News Service.
The visit was, at the same time, the first by any civilian to the first American battle front.

BARS ALL ALIEN ENEMIES
Germans Who Live Near Brooklyn
Water Line Restricted.

New York, Oct. 31.—An order forbidding all German aliens to live or work within a half mile of the Brooklyn water front was issued by federal authorities here. German aliens now employed along the water front must be discharged by Thursday. The new restrictions follow the development of evidence which tends to show the recent grain elevator fires in Brooklyn to be of incendiary origin.

20,000 Loaves of Bread Burned.
Peoria, Ill., Oct. 31.—Yesterday was a wheatless day for a number of Peoria families not on the food conservation program, for fire which damaged the Schulte Bakery company's plant destroyed 20,000 loaves of bread. The loss is estimated at $14-000.
